Explanatory notes

Water Share Transfer Approval and Recording

Transferring a water share is a two-step process. Firstly, the water corporation must approve the transfer. Secondly, the transfer of ownership must be recorded by the Water Registrar. The transfer is not effective until the transfer has been recorded. The diagram below summarises the transfer process:

Water Corporation

This Form

Lodge this application with your Water Corporation to seek approval to transfer whole or part of a water share.

Form 1

Approval

Upon approval of this application the water corporation will send the seller or seller's agent a Transfer of Water Share Form.

Water Registrar

Transfer Form

Both the seller(s) and the buyer(s) need to sign the Transfer of Water Share Form and submit to the Water Registrar within two calendar months from the date of the water corporation's approval.

Recorded

The Water Registrar will record the transfer, and the buyer(s) will become the owners of the water share. Before the Water Registrar can record the transfer all mortgages on the water share must be discharged, or the mortgagee has consented to the transfer of the mortgage.

Recording information

- It is a statutory requirement for the Transfer of Water Share form to be lodged with the Water Registrar within two calendar months from the date of the water corporation's approval. If the Transfer form is not lodged within that time the Water Registrar cannot record the transfer, and the transfer will be rejected. If the buyer and seller still wish to proceed with the transfer they will need to reapply for the water corporation's approval.
- Before the Water Registrar can record the transfer all mortgages on the water share must be discharged, or the mortgagee has consented to the transfer of the mortgage.
- If a limited term transfer is recorded against the water share being transferred, it remains on the water share until it expires or is surrendered. A water share transfer does not expire a limited term transfer.
- The buyer does not own the water share until it has been recorded. This means any allocation received between the water corporation's approval and recording will go to the sellers' allocation account (ABA).

Transferring your water share with land

This application is to transfer your water share only. If you are transferring your water assets (i.e. water share, allocation, works licence, and delivery share) with your land contact your water corporation. The water corporation will provide you with a single pre-filled form that will facilitate the transfer of all these water assets in a single transaction.

Transferring part of a water share

Transferring part of a water share automatically cancels the original water share and creates two new water shares in the seller's name. The two new water shares will continue to exist even if the Water Registrar does not record the transfer.

If the seller or buyer is a company or incorporated association

Companies must attach an ASIC company extract that is less than 12 months old. Two directors or one director and secretary are required to sign. Incorporated associations must attach an incorporated association extract that is less than 12 months old. The listed secretary is required to sign.

Allocation

Transferring a water share does not transfer the allocation account (ABA) or any of the allocation held in the ABA.

If the allocation account holder wishes to transfer the allocation or amend the allocation account holders, the following can be completed:

- Form 39 Application to Trade Allocation; or
- Form 44 Application to Amend Allocation Account Holder's

Nominating an allocation account (ABA)

The buyer can nominate an existing allocation account (ABA) to link with the water share they are buying if the ABA has the trading zone as the water share.

If the water share and the nominated ABA are not compatible the water corporation will issue you a new ABA.

Using the water share on land

Allocation derived from the water share can be used on the land (water-use licence or registration licence) that is linked to the ABA without formally associating the water share with land.

The buyer can also formally associate the water share with land by nominating a water-use licence or water-use registration. To associate the water share to a water-use licence/registration the buyer must be either an owner or occupier of the land under the water-use licence or be related to the land owner. A water share cannot be associated if it would exceed the water-use licence/registration's holding limit.

Water share ownership

Like land, a water share can be owned as:

- Sole owner - where only one person/ legal entity owns the water share, or as
- Joint owners - where two or more people/ legal entities own a water share together and if one joint owner dies, the whole of the water share remains with the surviving joint owners, or as
- Tenants in common - where two or more people/ legal entities own a defined portion of a water share. Under this arrangement an owner can sell their portion without the approval of the other owners. If one of the owners dies the portion that they own passes in accordance with their Will.
- Tenants in common owning their portions as joint owners - where two or more people/ legal entities own a defined portion of a water share.

Refusal of the Application

The water corporation will send a letter to the water share owner(s), lodging agent, and the proposed buyer(s) advising that the application was refused.

After refusal, if the water share owner(s) wish to resubmit the water share transfer again, a new application form will need to be lodge with another application fee.

What is happening under the Water Act 1989

This form is an application, where applicable, for the Minister's approval to:

- transfer a water share (under section 33X);
- divide a water share (under section 33Y);
- vary the water share (under section 33R);
- associate the water share (or revoke its association) with a water-use licence or water-use registration (under section 33AQ);
- give a standing direction (under section 33TA);
- revoke a standing direction (under section 33TB);
- approval to take water outside the water system (under section 33AI);
- approval to use water from the water share on land which the water share is not associated (under section 64 K).

Water share copy of record

A copy of the Water Share' record (copy of record) can be purchased from www.waterregister.vic.gov.au. The copy of record provides full details of the water share including its ownership, volume, water system and reliability, and encumbrances that may be recorded against it like mortgages and limited term transfers.
